

Nutrition and Physical Activity Towards a healthier lifestyle

Trans Atlantic Consumer dialogue
Generation Excess III
Washington April 8, 2008

Robert Madelin
Director General for Health and Consumer Protection
European Commission

Marshalling Community actions towards

- Better informing the consumer, such as through better labelling on food products
- Making the healthy option available, such as making fruits and vegetables available to schools
- Encouraging physical activity, such as by encouraging community initiatives or by raising awareness of Community funds to develop the physical environment to encourage walking/cycling and other forms of activity
- Focus on priority groups and settings, such as children and schools
- Developing the evidence base to support policy making, such as by carrying out research into behaviour change in relation to food and nutrition
- Developing monitoring systems, such as by working with the WHO to identify effective local actions

Implementing the EU strategy

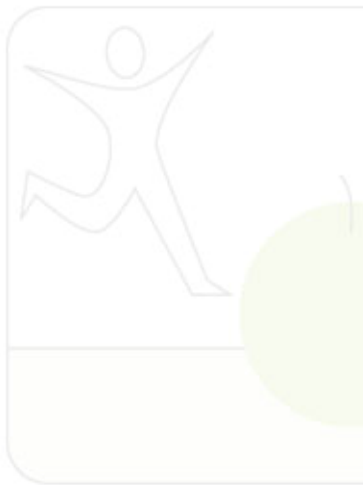

Challenges to private actors ...

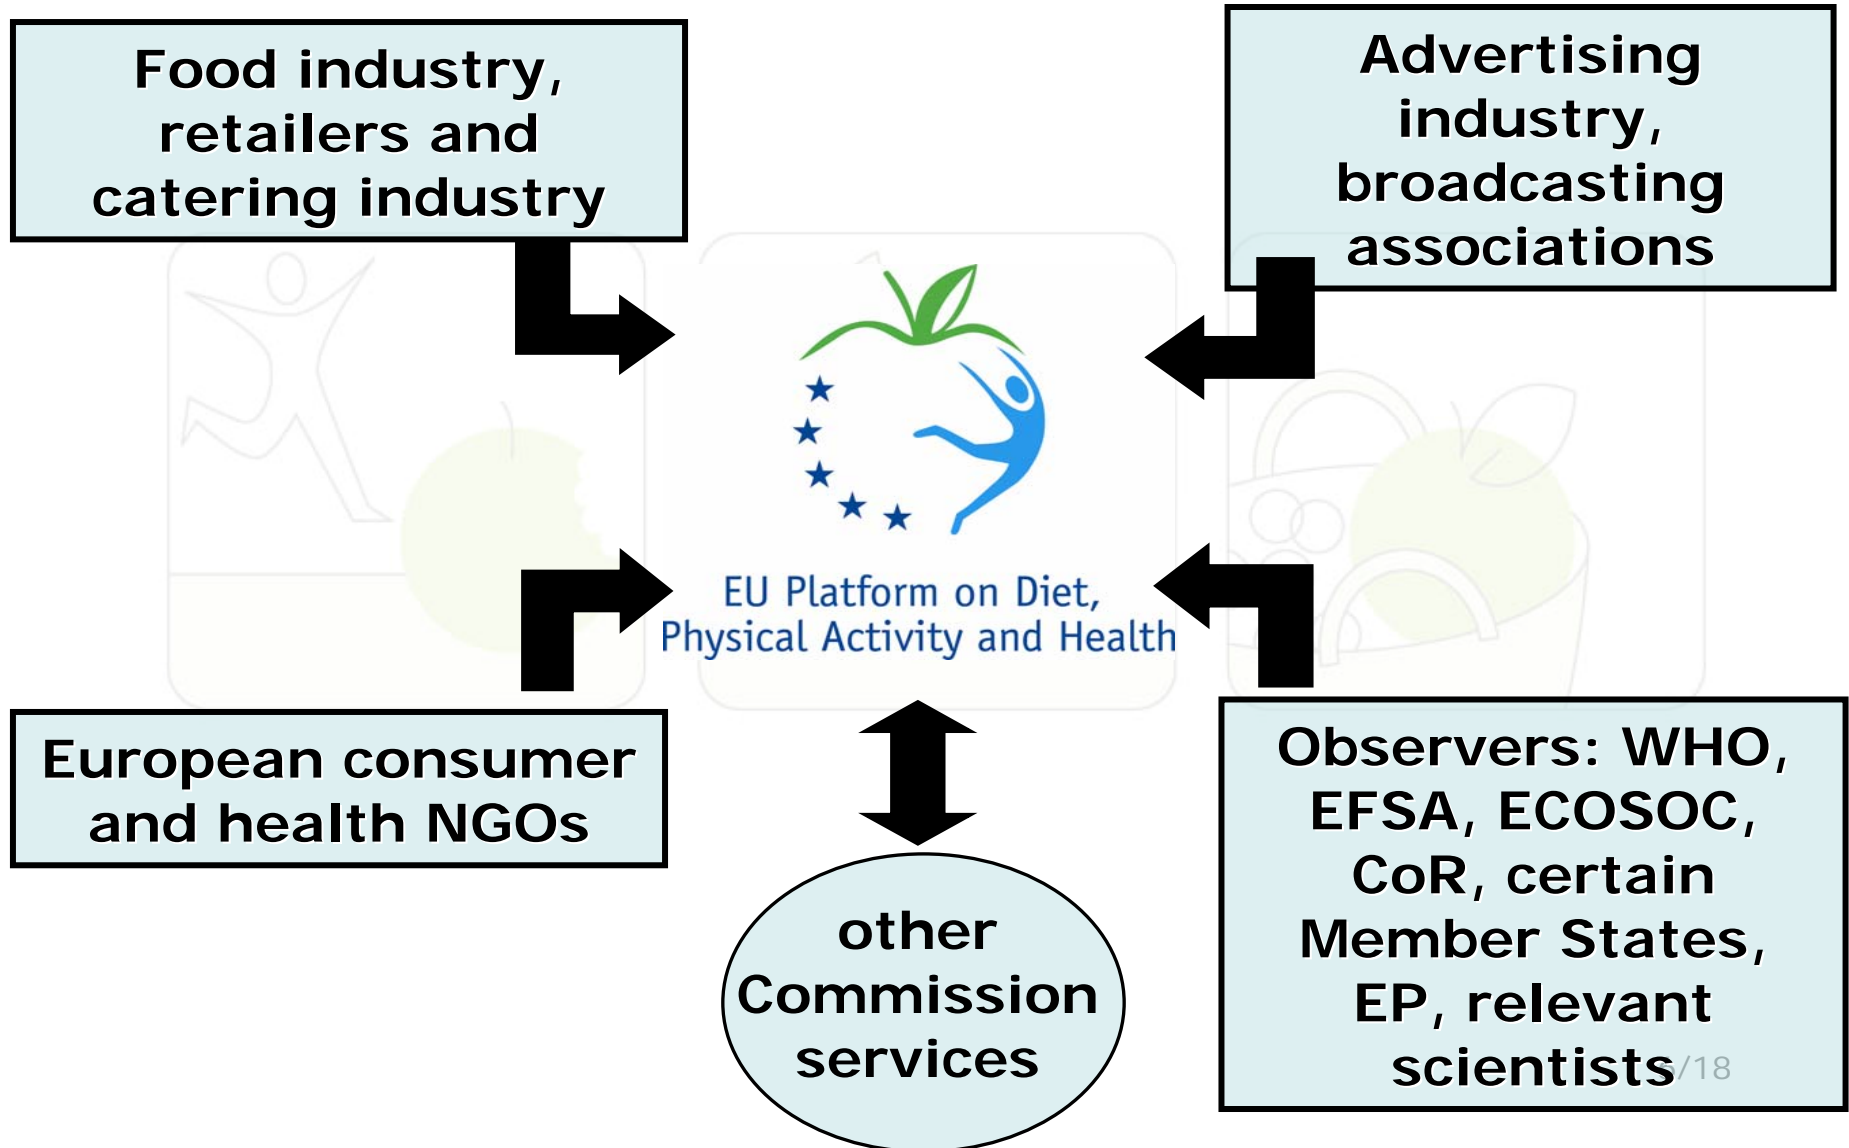

- Product reformulation
- Strengthen restrictions on advertising of HFSS foods to children
- Healthy workplaces
- Actions by clinical groups, civil society organisations etc
- Develop common messages to motivate campaigns

But with support by the Commission (facilitation, policies, specific studies), a stronger partnership framework

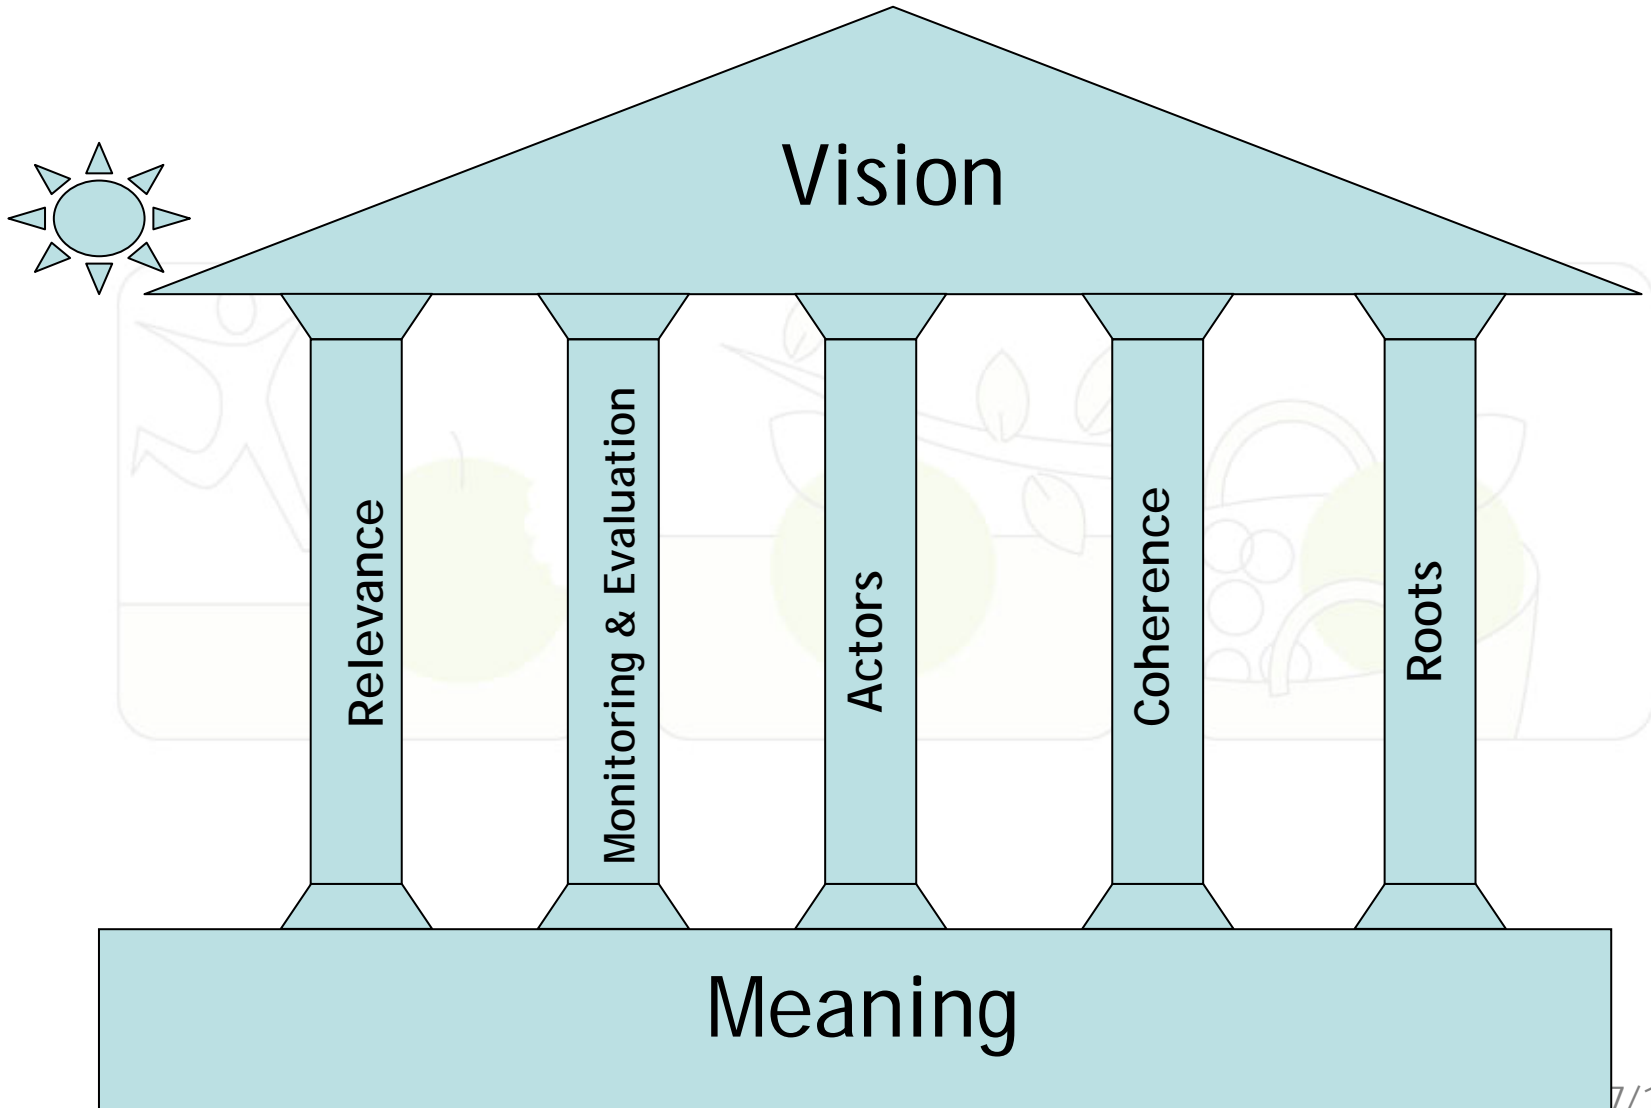

Continuing to develop the

EU Platform on Diet,
Physical Activity and Health

Key elements

Health warning!

RESPONSE report (forthcoming) by INSEAD, Copenhagen Business School, Bocconi University etc.

- Companies should shift CSR from external engagement towards internal change initiative aimed at adopting strategies and operating routines, developing change capabilities and enhancing managerial sensitivities to the social and environmental implications of their actions.
- NGOs should invest in understanding these internal changes processes.
- The data shows that increasing scepticism towards corporations offering collaboration in external engagement rather than in deep internal change process is justified.

Actions underway:

- Advertising & Marketing:
"12 is the new 6"
(EU Pledge, December 2007)
- Product development & reformulation

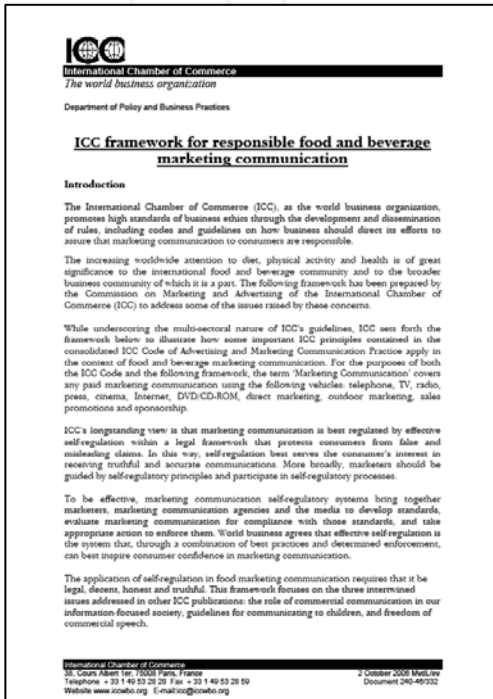

• WFA & EASA

Urge SROs to implement the ICC Code for Responsible Food and Non-alcoholic Beverage Communications in 23 of 25 Member States by the end of 2006

• UNESDA (nine major soft drink companies including Pepsi, Coca-Cola and Cadbury Schweppes)

- no advertising to children under 12 in printed media, on websites or during broadcast programmes specifically aimed at children.
- no direct commercial activity in primary schools in the EU.
- ensure that in secondary schools a full range of beverages - including water, juices and others - in both regular and low-calorie/calorie-free versions and in a range of serving sizes - are available in unbranded vending machines.

Product development & reformulation

EMRA (Goody's) – Stopped automatically adding salt to the fries in their restaurants so consumers now have to ask for packets of salt.

YUM! Brands reduced its salt usage by 300 tons a year

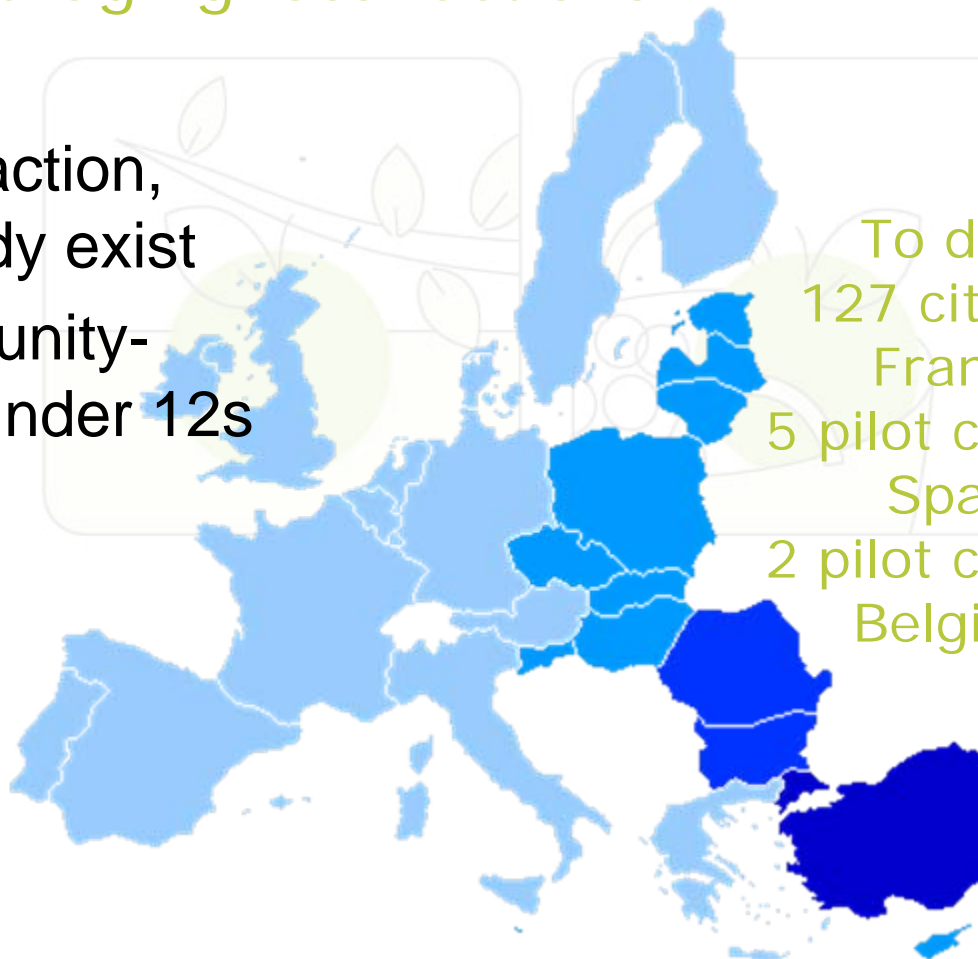

CIAA - members survey showed more than 4,000 products reformulated between 2003 & 2006. One in three of the companies who responded noted reformulation of at least 50% of their products in 2005 & 2006.

Focus on priority groups and settings, such as children and schools: Encouraging local actions

Local networks for action,
Good models already exist
e.g. Positive Community-
based learning for under 12s
(EPODE Europe)

To date
127 cities in
France
5 pilot cities in
Spain
2 pilot cities in
Belgium

The 5 pillars of EPODE

- A strong political will (community team)
- A scientific background (experts committee)
- A professional organization scheme (social marketing) and networking expertise
- An ethical and efficient public/private partnership
- A large and sustainable mobilization of local stakeholders ensured by a dedicated local project manager

Fostering new educational schemes and stimulating environment where families live

EPODE European Network (EEN) : Think & share globally, act locally

- Establish good practices for the design, dissemination & evaluation of community-based intervention.
- Prompt the implementation of EPODE-like initiatives in European countries.
- Build the legal and ethical framework of the public/private partnership.

Regulatory approach, recent developments

- Audiovisual Media Services Directive (AVMSD) 2007/65/EC
- Provision of food information to consumers COM (2008) 40 final
- Regulation 1924/2006 on nutrition and health claims on food

AIM® Charter

"Brands for Health and Well-Being"
Vevey, 6 October 2006
Brussels, 31 March 2008

- Cooperative voluntarism
- Time to market
- Strategic Corporate Commitment to "enhance Healthy Lifestyles in Europe"
 - An interest in the health and well-being of their consumers, their employees and the communities in which they operate;
 - Integrate this ambition into their commercial activities;
 - Ways in which brands – market research and product development- could contribute to people's health and well-being.

Transatlantic exchange of good practices

EU/US Conference

BRUSSELS
11 & 12.05.2006

“Good practices: Action on Diet,
Physical Activity and Health”

- Eat up your greens.
- 2009: Evaluation of Platform achievements.
- 2010: Monitoring and progress report for the Strategy.
 - Identify efforts made in each area.
 - Commission will need support from actors to demonstrate the progress that has been made.
 - An opportunity to reorient our approach.
 - An opportunity to keep high profile of the issue.